

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding: Updating the
the Inter-Carrier Compensation Regime including Conference
calling Services.

Received & Indexed
OCT 22 2018
FCC Mailroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling participant, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other
Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other
American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls,
news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings,
startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name:

John D. Ziaist
Phone # (641) 660-4790

Date: October 2, 2018

I have many relatives in other States and cannot always attend funeral services. Therefore I use the Conference
Calling line listen on the phone.

Also on my cellphone contract I am paying a monthly fee for unlimited airtime, therefore I am already paying for the minutes for this service.

Received & Inspected

OCT 22 2018

Hello:

This is about -- WC Docket Number 18-155 regarding : updating the Intercarrier Compensation Regime including conference calling services.

The way I use this line is visiting with friends & family from across north American. Last year I was house bound for sickness it helps past time faster were it makes a day seem shorter. Sundays that I could not go to church I could listening to the sermon live at home.

If we lose the free minutes I would have to give this for cost would be to much .

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please Reconsider acting on WC Docket No.18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,
Richard Schrock
4760 S 1000 E
Brazil, IN 47834
765-323-8683

Date 10-17-18

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding: Updating the Intercarrier Compensation Regime including conference calling services.

Received & Inspected
OCT 22 2018
FCC Mailroom

I would be affected by this change, as I use the free conference calling daily!

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other
Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other
American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls,
news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings,
startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of
major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: Megan Hostetler

Date: 10-15-18

email: megan@bvchurch.net

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding. Updating the Inter-carrier Compensation Regime including conference calling Services.

Received & Indexed

I listen to singing calls ~~DETT~~ weekly, so please don't change anything.

FCC Mailroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: Kaitlin Hostetler Date: 10-15-18

email: kaitlinjoy@bvchurch.net

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding: Updating the
the Inter-Carrier Compensation Regime including Conference
calling Services.

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other
Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other
American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls,
news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings,
startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of
major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: John D. Zeiset Date: October 2, 2018
Phone # (641) 660-4790

I have many relatives in other States and cannot always attend funeral services. Therefore I use the Conference
Calling line listen on the phone.

Also on my cellphone contract I am paying a monthly fee for unlimited airtime, there for I am already paying for the minutes for this service.

Received & Inspected

October 11, 2018

To Whom it May Concern:

OCT 22 2018

FCC Mailroom

WC Docket #18-155 Regarding:
Updating the Intercarrier Compensation Regime
including conference calling services.

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses. I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly. Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million. However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families. Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling. Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers. I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

I would hope that our Conference Calling
services could continue as they are.
We have listened in for church services when my wife was unable to attend because of having an heart attack.
We have also listened to services at a distance
because we could not travel the miles to be there.
Thank you. Marvin & Edith Ketcham
Tel. # 541-554-9158
Email - m e ketcham 1938@gmail.com

WC DOCKET
NO 18-155

Received & Inspected

OCT 22 2018

FCC Mailroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name:

Anna Reiff

Date:

10-15-18

ANNA REIFF

717-656-9966

I greatly appreciate these conference calls,
I use them for Bible study, song of praise

May we continue to have these calls
Thank you

Received & Inspected

OCT 22 2018

FCC Mallroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: Mary Ann Wiebe

Date: Oct. 15-2018

My Verizon phone no. is 1-208-490-1354
My address is Mary Wiebe 114D 14th Ave. Buhl, Idaho 83316
I live alone and enjoy the priveledge of using your conference calling programs. I talk to my elderly parents who enjoy your services. I also dial in to the church services & other Christian services.

Received & Inspected
OCT 22 2018
FCC Mailroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: Lloyd M. Martin
Vera Martin

Date: 10-9-18

*Please let us have singing calls + funeral service
+ conference calls as we do pay our telephone bills
I enjoyed it as we are one of the older people you have to know for your own expenses*

*Phone # 641-919-0210
319-672-0905*

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding: Updating the Inter carrier Compensation Regime including conference calling
Services.

Received & Inspected

I listen to singing calls etc. weekly, so please don't change anything!

OCT 22 2018
FCC Mailroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: Kaitlin Hostetler Date: 10-15-18

email: kaitlinjoy@bvchurch.net

Hello:

Received & Inspected

This is about -- WC Docket number 18-155 regarding ; updating the Inter-carrier Compensation Regime including conference calling services.

FCC Mailroom

The way I use this line is visiting with friends & family from across north American. Last year I was house bound for sickness it helps past time faster were it makes a day seem shorter. Sundays that I could not go to church I could listening to the sermon live at home.

If we lose the free minutes I would have to give this for cost would be to much .

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please Reconsider acting on WC Docket No.18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,
Richard Schrock
4760 S 1000 E
Brazil, IN 47834
765-323-8683

Date 10-17-18

to whom it may concern
We would like to see then this may keep Free conference for our churches and other things.
We get a lot of info. from the use of the Free conference lines.

Received & Inspected
OCT 22 2018

FCC Mailroom

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Ernest Z. Martin 10-14-18

Ernest Z. Martin

484-955-1069

Dear Sirs

10-16-18

Received & Inspected
OCT 22 2018

Greetings to you this sunny morning. This letter is in regards about docket ~~FCC~~ Mailroom 18-155 FCC. We hope you do not take our free conference calling away since its our Non radio + TV communications for the lonely, widows + elderly etc. There is so much worthwhile conferences. Thanks for considering our Christian fellowship.

Emma

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

John + Emma Zimmerman 717-445-6976

10-15-18

October 11, 2018

To Whom It May Concern:

WC Docket #18-155 Regarding:
Updating the Intercarrier Compensation Regime
including conference calling services.

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses. I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly. Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million. However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families. Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling. Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers. I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

I would hope that our Conference Calling
services could continue as they are.
We have listened in for church services when
my wife was unable to attend because of having
an heart attack.
We have also listened to services at a distance
because we could not travel the miles to be there.
Thank you. Marvin & Edith Ketcham
Tel. # 541-554-9158
Email - me ketcham 1938@gmail.com

October 14 2018

To The FCC Commission,

Received & Inspected
OCT 22 2018
FCC Mailroom

We are asking that you reconsider the idea that you all have discontinuing the conference line. We have family that live in other states and this has been able to get our own family visits in one phone call, and keep everybody in touch with one phone call. We can arrange family gatherings and also visit about current events that has happened in the different areas.

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

We also are concerned about the inavailability that this will do in sharing Gods word to those that are handicap and unable to get out and go to church.

We are giving a special invitation to anyone that works for the FCC to call in some Sunday and hear the Word of God preached and it will inspire you to face the rest of the future with confidence in God.

Ph# 419-564-2570 Home Ph. 419-252-3803

Sincerely
Galen Eberly
Galen Eberly

One suggestion I would have is to make it a option to pay a small fee each month to each phone bill then all those that want Conference Calling can pay this small fee like $10.00 per month and if they don't sign up then it would not be available to that phone number.